Illinois Interfaith Conference
February 23 & 24

The Illinois Interfaith Conference is a FREE opportunity for University of Illinois students and campus allies- as well as student leaders and professionals from across the Midwest- to join together to engage in critical questions about interfaith engagement on the college campus.

The conference will be held Friday, February 23rd and Saturday, February 24th at the University YMCA (1001 S. Wright St., Champaign). The opening keynote on Friday evening will be in room 112 Gregory Hall (810 S. Wright St., Champaign).

Keynote speaker Nadia Bolz-Weber, Lutheran pastor and New York Times bestselling author, will speak about her latest book Shameless: A Case for Not Feeling Bad About Feeling Good (About Sex), which reclaims the conversation around sexuality, shame, and desire for a new generation of believers. In her talks, she explores spirituality and faith; friendship and community; life purpose and activism; self-care, shame, and the body; recovery and self-awareness; sex and intimacy; health and wellness; and leadership and authority. Nadia will also be speaking at the Friday Forum + Conversation Cafe at noon on Friday at the University YMCA in conversation with Pastor Leah Roberts-Mosser.

All people of religious and non-religious philosophical traditions are welcome! The Illinois Interfaith Conference is co-sponsored by the Office of the Vice Chancellor for Diversity, Equity & Inclusion, Diversity & Social Justice Education, Illini Hillel, Interfaith in Action, Department of Religion, and the University YMCA.

Write a Note

Does a moment of joy come to you when you receive a handwritten note in the mail? Does it brighten a dark day, help you celebrate or bring affirmation? As the First Pres “family” we strive to share the peace and love of Christ with each other. One way is through writing notes.

The Session sends a letter regularly to those for whom they recently prayed and our Nurture Committee writes a note to first time attenders. Memorial donations to the church are followed by a personal note. Some write to our incarcerated friends and those in the military. Others write to those they know from our prayer list.

To assure we respond to everyone with needs and joys your Nurture Committee coordinates writing notes on behalf of all the congregation.

Please join us as we strive to blunt the pain or share the joy with all our siblings in Christ. Contact Carol Ann Green, Chair, Nurture Committee or the church office to join our note writing team.

Chili Cook Off

BY JOE LUNDY, ASSOCIATE PASTOR FOR DISCIPLESHIP
JOSEPH@FIRSTPRES.CHURCH

Although it may not be as cold as it was last month, I think we are still definitely in what I have heard called "chili weather". On Sunday, February 25, at 3 PM in Centennial Hall, I am looking forward to getting together with all of you, to have some good food, good conversations, and good friendly competition to see who can claim the bragging rights for the year. Remember that each person can (but isn't required to) enter one dessert and one chili.

You also do not need to enter any dish at all. You can bring your expert palate to help us find which dishes will win the day. I hope that everyone comes ready to have fun and fellowship.

The Heart of Mission

English Language Learners

BY BONNIE WARD, DIRECTOR
BONNIE@FIRSTPRES.CHURCH

ELL started off the new semester with several ice and snow days, but we are fully underway now. We have had a few teachers out with illness or other family matters, but others have stepped up to fill in the gaps. I am grateful for each of our teachers. We have a new teacher this semester in Judy Gordon, as well as a student volunteer in Kruti Thakkar who will fill in and help co-teach.

In January, we added a 5th class, YELLOW, which allowed us to add new students, as well as move those who are progressing. We have over 60 students enrolled and most days things are quite busy here.

We will have a Valentine's Day party on the 14th. If you ever want to visit the program, especially during Cafe time from 9:15-9:45, we would love to have you. It is rewarding to see students connecting and chatting in English. Many came very shy and reluctant to speak English but are quickly progressing and engaging in conversation.

I am amazed that I get paid to do this work! Thank you for your support of this great program.

Ngoma African Arts Festival

Given our close and now decade old relationship with people from Western Africa it is not surprising that we would join them to celebrate their culture. The African Arts Festival will include traveling and local African musicians, a curated photo exhibit featuring African histories, a fashion show, public dance, and African food. Venues will include Krannert Center for the Performing Arts, Community Center for the Arts (C4A) and Lincoln Square Mall.

Our friend Jean René Balekita is a principal in organizing the festival as a community service project for his PhD in music at the University of Illinois. The date of the festival is Sunday, June 23. First Pres is honored to be a sponsor.

A fund for tax deductible donations is set up at First Pres. You may donate to the church and memo, "African Festival". Donate now as funding support will in part effect program development.

Knowing Cuba

Almost every worker in Cuba makes less than $150 per month and 75% make less than $50.00. Inflation is 34%.

All private autos were produced before 1959. More recent vehicles are owned by the government. The principal mineral export of Cuba is nickel. Cuba provides about 4% of the world's need. Cuba also exports physicians and nurses on contract.

Poverty by America

“Why does this land of plenty allow one in every eight of its children to go without basic necessities, permit scores of its citizens to live and die on the streets, and authorize its corporations to pay poverty wages?” Join with other PC(USA) members across the country to discuss Matthew Desmond’s book “Poverty, by America” over 4 sessions (2-3 chapters will be discussed each session). 6:30-7:45 PM. CDT Mondays in February on February. 5, 12, 19, 26 All are welcome!

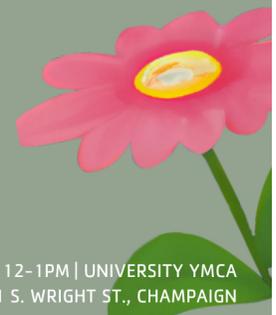

This denomination wide study is free. Register here.

Your Compassion, Peace and Justice Ministry Team studied this book as a part of its commitment to the Matthew 25 pillar of eradicating systemic poverty. The book is provocative, opening windows for understanding our nation’s struggle with homelessness, crime and racism. The author offers practical solutions.

Sallie Hutton in the Chapel.

I have two wonderful children, one here and one in Michigan and two grandchildren.

What do you do in your free time?

I have my church groups of course including women’s groups, our Pakistan Group, Small Groups Leadership Group and World Mission. I will soon start a rotation with Community Mission Deacons. And, I have two small church groups of singles who gather regularly for meals out.

Beyond church I have long been interested in genealogy and I read a lot.

How can the church best be the church?

That’s an easy one. Be a place of caring relationships among diverse people.

What brought you to First Presbyterian Church?

Well, I grew up with the Disciples of Christ but my husband was Presbyterian. When we came to Champaign in the early sixties we did some church shopping. We liked what we saw at First Pres and I am here still.

What has been the highlight of your church experience?

There’s probably more than one but the first would be the people. This is a safe place to build enduring relationships. Then after that would be our focus on service, particularly in mission but also the learning and spiritual growth opportunities here.

Tell me about your family? Your work?

My job was social work focused on neglected and abused children, child welfare.

So we begin a journey through the wilderness of Lent with the marks of our human brokenness upon us. Accompany us on the way; forgive us as we stumble; encourage us as we learn the way of discipleship; bring us safely to the cross and the empty tomb.

Restore us to wholeness, and embrace us in your steadfast love.

For the Lenten season the adult Sunday School will be using devotions from a recently published book: Pause - Spending Lent with the Psalms by Elizabeth Caldwell. This book guides us on a different sort of Lenten pilgrimage, lingering with the ancient words of the Psalms and uncovering layers of personal meaning from the divine poetry.

Books will be available on Sunday morning. Cost is $10. If you don't have the book, you can still join our discussions. The Psalms are in the Bible. For our first session, on Sunday, February 18, we will reflect on the meaning of Ash Wednesday and the first week of Lent by connecting with Psalms 51 and 25.

Men's Prayer

The men of the church gather for prayer Fridays at 8:15 AM on Zoom. We pray in turn in our own way and in the language of our choice. We pray for the world, our nation, our communities and for those with special needs or joys. Join us.

Jays & Concerns
